Quality Policy Statement

B & B Precision Engineering (Huddersfield) Limited incorporating B and B Grinding Services and B and B Coatings are committed to providing an unrivalled service to industry in the supply of precision engineering services, sub-contract grinding and HVOF metal spraying.

The company has one simple aim: - to ensure that its customers receive the services that they require, to the quality standard and price agreed and that these services are delivered on time and are subject to continual improvement according to measurable objectives identified within the Quality Manual. These objectives shall be reviewed on a regular basis, evidence of which shall be contained within the minutes of regular Management Review meetings.

Most importantly, the company believes in continual improvement and that consistency of service, and of the products supplied, is paramount to our customers. These aspects are kept under constant review, which is evidenced by the company's commitment to maintaining its systems to the quality standard of BS EN ISO 9001: 2015 and AS9100 rev D.

The company shall ensure through discussion at documented Management Review meetings, that this statement of policy continues to remain suited to the needs of both the company and those of its customers.

All personnel employed by B & B Precision Engineering (Huddersfield) Limited are considered to have a personal responsibility for the effective operation of the company's quality system, and are made aware both through ongoing development and training and through communication with the management team, of their important role in assisting the company in achieving its quality assurance aims.

The overall responsibility for ensuring that the company's employees adhere to the systems, processes and procedures referred to in these manuals lies with the Managing Director and Management Team.
